

Character

- Empathy for image bearers is always valuable.
- We should regularly look for injustice in us and in our groups.
- We should strive for meekness.

Beliefs

- Truth is objective & it is valuable to learn from different people's experiences.
- Injustice must be assessed and confronted patiently.
- It isn't just people and groups with power who can be unjust and racist, but cultural power does come with a particular temptation towards injustice.
- Systems can be unjust, and I should be willing to dialogue about that.

Actions

- We should seek to have diverse relationships in our lives.
- Be reactive and proactive about justice.
- Have a plan for generosity that includes vulnerable people.

Character

- Empathy for image bearers is always valuable.
- We should regularly look for injustice in us and in our groups.
- We should strive for meekness.

Beliefs

- Truth is objective & it is valuable to learn from different people's experiences.
- Injustice must be assessed and confronted patiently.
- It isn't just people and groups with power who can be unjust and racist, but cultural power does come with a particular temptation towards injustice.
- Systems can be unjust, and I should be willing to dialogue about that.

Actions

- We should seek to have diverse relationships in our lives.
- Be reactive and proactive about justice.
- Have a plan for generosity that includes vulnerable people.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

---

1. What emotions do you find conversations around ethnicity, race, and justice create in you? Why do you think this is the case, and what do you think God wants you do with them?
2. When you look at your own heart on these issues where do you see it honoring God and where is it not?
3. Using the idea of being both reactive and proactive about justice, what do you think your next step is in further embodying Micah 6:8 ("He has told you, O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God?")?

Memory Verses: Deuteronomy 32:4

The Rock, his work is perfect, for all his ways are justice. A God of faithfulness and without iniquity, just and upright is he.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

---

1. What emotions do you find conversations around ethnicity, race, and justice create in you? Why do you think this is the case, and what do you think God wants you do with them?
2. When you look at your own heart on these issues where do you see it honoring God and where is it not?
3. Using the idea of being both reactive and proactive about justice, what do you think your next step is in further embodying Micah 6:8 ("He has told you, O man, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God?")?

Memory Verses: Deuteronomy 32:4

The Rock, his work is perfect, for all his ways are justice. A God of faithfulness and without iniquity, just and upright is he.